## Note of appreciation received from Ms. Rashmi Verma – Principal, Lucknow Public School, Sitapur-

“The morning sun on Suncity fell,
A story of welcome, the school would tell.
With handmade tallies, a self-service art,
To learn every name and know every heart.

The Tika’s warmth, a blessing so deep,
As promises the institution would keep.
Twenty years of service, in frames on the wall,
A celebratory silence, embracing the hall.

A welcome from Principal, Deepali Singh Mam so kind,
And Vice-Principal Sangeeta Bagchi Mam, with vision aligned.
Then into the Montessori, a world of its own,
Where the seeds of a mighty intellect are sown.

Kinesthetic movements, like a delicate dance,
Cognitive learning, given a chance.
Fine motor skills, with a purposeful aim,
And numeracy’s light, kindling its flame.

The Activity Room, a city in small,
With a traffic signal, heeding its call.
Tiny helpers in communities, a beautiful scene,
A realistic set-up, vivid and serene.

And my heart found a moment, simple and true,
A girl with hot coffee, and cookies minute, for you.
A gesture so pure, in miniature form,
A memory to cherish, a welcome warm.

Then the Intelligence Lab, a cave to explore,
With extinct great beasts and a camouflaged door.
An earthly village, a city's bright sprawl,
A temple's calm peace, standing tall.

A moon-surface setup, so silent and grand,
With an astronaut's footprint on the silver land.
On every floor, a thematic word,
Where new spellings and meanings are seen and heard.

In the Early Year class, a creative display,
With clay in small hands, moulding their way.
The neat seating plan, a systematic grace,
Shoes under their chairs, in their own special space.

The Refectory lesson, a value so dear,
Where two munchkins lay the table, banishing all fear.
A culture of service, of helping and sharing,
A habit of kindness, and perpetual caring.

A tour of the departments, a comprehensive view,
A curriculum woven in sustainable hue.
Seventeen Sustainable Global Goals, in the lesson plan's core,
Preparing for a world we are all striving for.
A Parent Walk-in performance, from Class Four's bright band,
A fusion of subjects, hand in hand.
A month of learning, in one performance displayed,
The fruit of a foundation so perfectly laid.

No jarring bells, yet a discipline clear,
Filling the atmosphere, year upon year.
In every nook, a value imbibed,
A philosophy the entire school inscribes.

From refreshment to lunch, a seamless design,
From staff to essential, a purpose divine.
All was orchestrated, nothing was missed,
In the heart of Suncity, where magic exists.

So ends the tale of my Day-Two's sight,
In Suncity School, burning so bright.”
